

The Anti-NDA – A Commitment To Share

Agreeing Parties

The parties in this agreement are Early Stage AS (hereby referred to as Early Stage), and RThink LatAm, hereby referred to as the Partner.

Background: Early Stage's Mission & Vision

Early Stage is built to execute a grand vision: to teach the world practical entrepreneurship, the new literacy for a post-industrial world.

The Early Stage Team believes that the world is in dire need of more great ideas, more organic idea sharing, and less formalized idea inhibition.

Early Stage also believes close cooperation with partners to be the only plausible way to reach the world with this critically important knowledge.

The purpose of this agreement is to ensure that the parties work in the interest of the greater good, by pledging to share good ideas freely and generously with external third parties without inhibition.

A Commitment To Share The Early Stage Method

The Partner hereby commits to generously share any good ideas picked up from Early Stage through formal and informal information exchanges, in spoken and written form.

The Partner commits to share any idea worth sharing with at least 5 – Five – people or organisations who care and/or could use said ideas to benefit others and/or themselves.

Ideas or concepts from the Early Stage programmes may be used and/or altered in any form, for any positive purpose, anywhere, anytime.

Sharing & Contributing To A Global Network

If the Partner uses any Early Stage inspired ideas, the Partner commits to sharing the outcomes and experiences from such idea execution with the Early Stage network, through e-mail or the Early Stage Global Network Facebook Group, which is open to anyone curious about entrepreneurship worldwide.
